After 11-cent increase

Area station owners predict gas shortage

By RICH ADAMS
Following an 11-cent increase in the price of regular gasoline at a Bay St. Louis convenience store by the end of the week, two area service station owners are predicting a fuel shortage by the end of February.

A recently opened Jr. Food Mart at the intersection of US-90 and North Second Street Wednesday hiked its prices on regular fuel from $1.05 a gallon to $1.16, Manager Candy Harvey reported.

She said her store opened with low fuel prices, but she was forced to raise those prices when her wholesale costs were hiked four cents Wednesday. "I could have cried," Harvey said. "We had to raise the price so much to stay within this area's price range," she added.

"You didn't see anything last summer. This shortage is going to be worse," Williams said Thursday. "If a station gets four loads a month, that's 30,000 gallons a month, it will be doing good. I do not see any way out of a shortage," he continued.

Thefts reported at Diamondhead

By RICH ADAMS
A recent series of breakins at Diamondhead remains under investigation, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson. Peterson said the breakins, in which thieves netted quantities of precious metals, gems, coins, and equipment, are not necessarily connected, but added the number of such incidents seems to be higher than usual. "I would not call the incidents a rash of breakins, but they are certainly more than we usually have," Peterson said Thursday.

Peterson said a very large flatbed truck would have been needed to carry off the missing items. Peterson said Investigators Delbert Seay and Alvin Ladner are investigating the incidents.

The Second Street store has exhausted its supply of regular fuel because Harvey said she was not aware she had to order a new shipment when the pumps reached a low level, and added a new tanker of gasoline is not due until "maybe the first of the month." A survey of Hancock County service stations Thursday revealed John Mason of Mason's Exxon and Charles Williams of Williams' Spur expecting a fuel shortage before March much worse than the shortage experienced last summer.

"This shortage will happen around the end of February," he added. Williams said he is already having problems obtaining gas, and added he is beginning to close on Saturday to stretch his allocation. "I won't know until this afternoon if I will have to restrict pump hours," Williams noted. Mason said he has problems obtaining fuel for his pumps, noting business is heavy at his location on the corner of US-90 and Nicholson Avenue in Waveland. "Mr. Williams' thinking is right in GAS SHORTAGE-Page 2A

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson and Investigators Alvin Ladner and Delbert Seay arrested Ronald Melborne, 20, of Waveland and Charles Johnson, 30, of Shoreline Park Saturday charging them with three counts of burglary and in connection with recent thefts from Diamondhead homes. Silver and jewelry taken from the homes was recovered, the sheriff reported. "With the help of Auxiliary Deputy Mark Ohman we recovered various sterling silver items from a bayou near the Johnsons home," Peterson said late Saturday. Ohman dove to recover the items, the sheriff noted. Peterson said his investigation is still underway.

Coast school board members support teacher salary hike

By EDGAR PEREZ
The Gulf Coast School Boards Association, at a Bay St. Louis meeting Thursday night, approved a resolution supporting any moves in the current legislative session to implement a teacher pay raise. An increase in teacher salaries is the number one item on the association's list of legislative priorities which also calls for the "Defeat of any bill providing for collective bargaining and any bill providing for dues checkoff." "We are not the enemies of the teachers," said Oren Miller, association president and member of the Harrison County School Board. "And one way we can help prevent collective bargaining in our school systems is to get behind this kind of bill—we have to join the fight for higher teacher salaries," Miller said in linking the teacher salary and collective bargaining priorities of the association. "I have the feeling teachers don't think we are behind them in their struggle for higher pay," he continued. "We've talked about having someone come here and tell us how to prevent collective bargaining, but the best way to prevent such a move is to start right now," Miller argued in asking for the resolution in support of a teacher pay hike. The association agreed at its previous meeting to invite Dr. Gene Geisert, former superintendent of New Orleans Public Schools, to discuss preventing collective bargaining at an April 24 association meeting in Ocean Springs. Thursday's meeting here was hosted by the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board and Superintendent J. D. McCulloch at the Bay Senior High cafeteria. Other legislative priorities on the association's current list are for an "increase in the appropriation for transportation for school year 1980-81 and also a supplementary transportation appropriation for school year 1979-80." The association is also seeking TEACHER PAY-Page 6A

Beat One equipment burglary draws three year sentences

By RICH ADAMS
A Bay St. Louis man was sentenced to three three-year terms in the state penitentiary by Circuit Court Judge Leslie B. Grant Friday after pleading guilty to one count of grand larceny and two counts of burglary. Also in court Monday, former Hancock County Youth Court Administrator Charles Carter Jr., indicted last week for allegedly embezzling $3,850 from the court's restitution fund, failed to appear for his arraignment. Edward J. Madere received the three terms in prison to run concurrently after he told the judge he had twice burglarized the District One equipment barn on Lakeshore Road. Madere also told the judge he helped two accomplices steal a boat motor from Bay Marina Incorporated. Grant told Madere he will lose his right to trial by jury if he pleads guilty, and then asked Assistant District Attorney Richard Smith for recommendations. Smith recommended Madere be sentenced for three years on each crime, each sentence to run concurrent with the others. Walter Gex, who defended Madere, said restitution has been made to District One and the motor has been returned. "I believe my client has learned his lesson," Gex told the judge. Grant then apologized for having to send Madere to prison and sentenced him. "I am sorry you fell into these serious cases, and I consider the state's ARRAIGNMENTS-Page 2-A

Stennis special education facility could be illegal

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Hancock County School District Coordinator Harlin Hill informed the school board Wednesday that a separate special education center would conflict with a U.S. District Court decision (the Mattie T. consent decree of Jan. 26, 1979) regarding the handicapped. Pass Christian Architect John Mykolyk in November presented preliminary plans to the school board for a $90,000 special education center located next to the Pearl River Vo-Tech Center at Stennis International Airport. Comments regarding the center Wednesday developed from a discussion of unsuccessful efforts to hire a Silver Creek School special education teacher.

"You cannot have a special education facility for special education students off campus. The Silver Creek School is only a temporary measure," Hill said at the Wednesday morning meeting. "What about the handicapped school at Stennis Airport?" asked Board member Monvel Cuevas. "According to the law, you cannot put HANDICAPPED-Page 6A

Correction

An obituary notice for Gilmore (Peck) Favre in the previous edition of the Sea Coast Echo inadvertently listed among Mr. Favre's survivors his deceased son Lucien Favre. That notice also inadvertently omitted from the list of survivors Mr. Favre's son Dan J. Favre of Bay St. Louis. The Echo apologizes for those errors.

recommendations fair. You are sentenced to three years for each offense to run concurrent. That is a total of three years. Good-luck to you," Grant said. Grant then called for Carter to approach the bench, but the former Youth Court official was not present in the courtroom.

Assistant D.A. Smith said the state was prepared to proceed with the arraignment, but Carter nor his attorney were present. Sheriff Ronnie Peterson called for Carter and three others who signed his $5,000 property bond, and when nobody appeared, the judge placed a call on the bond.

Later Friday Grant said he expects Carter to appear in court next week, calling the absence Friday a "misunderstanding."

"We will wait and see if he (Carter) comes in next week. He has until the beginning of the next term of court to appear," the judge explained. "He was in court earlier this week, and this is probably a misunderstanding," he added.

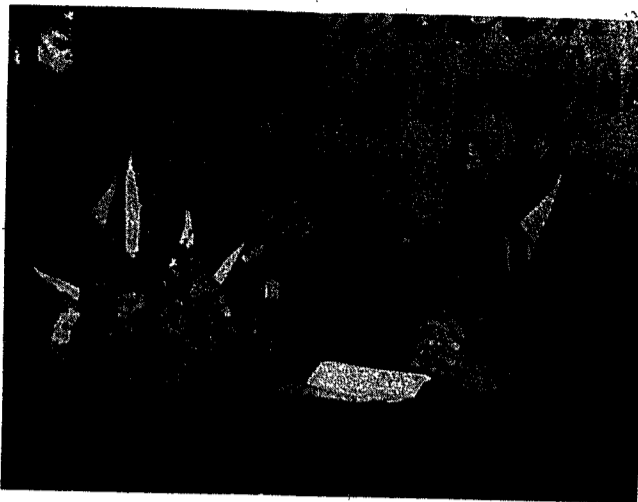

William (Billy) Favre, who was indicted for the July 25 theft of merchandise from the Western Store in Waveland, plead guilty to burglary and received a suspended five year prison sentence. Favre, represented by Attorney Anne Williamson of Bay St. Louis, told the judge he had taken the $2,376 of clothing from the store as he entered his plea of guilty.

Williamson said her client will pay $211 in restitution in small increments and asked that a suspended sentence with probation be handed down as recommended by the state. Grant sentenced the 18-year-old to a five year suspended sentence, in addition to paying restitution, court costs, and attorney fees.

Other cases which were continued until later this term or the April term were:

Solomon McQueen, uttering forgery, continued until the April term; Vincent Ortiz Jr., three counts of burglary, continued until Monday; Jack Hosen, arson, plead not guilty. Trial is set for Jan. 31; Jimmy Gibson and Ronald Shaneyfelt, continued until Jan. 30; Edgar (Pete) Moran, indicted for murder, continued until Monday; Eliza (Sugar Bear) Belino and Jerry Bridges, six counts of armed robbery at Seymour's Jewelry, continued until Jan. 31; Ronald Mellison plead not guilty to grand larceny, continued until April 7; Portia Goldin, indicted for food stamp fraud, continued until Jan. 31; Elvin Ray Cuevas plead not guilty to uttering forgery, trial set April 10; Paul Wayne Kingston pleaded not guilty to charges of burglary. Trial is slated April 11; Guy Eugene Rock, indicted for burglary, plead not guilty. He was arrested by Waveland Patrolman Chris Sands Tuesday. His trial is slated April 8; Stanley Nelson Delle pleaded not guilty for breaking and entering the Waveland Small Animal Hospital on US-90 in Waveland. Combs. Combs and Hillard D. Thorpe were re-elected to the board. Dorothy S. Crapo is 1980 secretary-treasurer, replacing Ruby E. Laird. Other new directors include Charles H. Delk, president of ABC Rental, Gulfport; Richard H. (Dick) Herman of Gulfport, vice president of Stewart-Sneed-Hewes Insurance, Inc.; J. W. Myrick, vice president of Fox-Everett, Inc., Gulfport; and Ruth Simmons of Long Beach, co-owner and vice president of Simmons Steel Erection Co. The commission directors meet monthly on the first Tuesday, with the next session slated for 4 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 5 at Gulfport Chamber of Commerce.

Frishie is a trustee of Christ Episcopal Day School in Bay St. Louis and Coast Episcopal High School in Pass Christian. He is a Shriner and area representative of U.S. Title Co. in Mississippi, Louisiana and South Alabama. Trepagnier is retired from Exxon Corporation.

Southern District Highway Commissioner Bob Joiner said Friday the new Hancock County Welcome Center will be dedicated Friday, Feb. 1 and he encouraged the public to attend an open house between 9 and 10:30 a.m. that day. During a press conference at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce office in Bay St. Louis Joiner said ribbon cutting ceremonies to officially open the center will be at 10:30 a.m.

State Senator Martin Smith will be master of ceremonies who will introduce Hancock County Board of Supervisor's President Dolph Kellar and Tourism Director George Williams of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development. Joining Joiner in cutting the ribbon will be Miss Shane Pittman, Mississippi's Miss Hospitality and Miss Deborah Edwards, Miss Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. Entertainment planned during the open house will include the Hancock North Central High School Band and the Bay Senior High School Band playing selected numbers.

Development of the Welcome Center in Hancock County was a joint effort of the Mississippi State Highway Department with the Mississippi Department of Economic Development. Construction began on the Welcome Center in September, 1978, by Roy Anderson Construction Company of Gulfport under the architectural design of Godfrey, Bassett, and Turmello of Jackson, and was completed at a cost of $1,237,764.

This is the fifth and largest of seven welcome centers planned along Mississippi's Interstate System. Each is designed to reflect the colonial antebellum heritage that is characteristic of the Deep South.

While the Mississippi State Highway Department has had the responsibility to construct and maintain these facilities by caring for the grounds and furnishing the utilities and waste water disposals, the Department of Economic Development has the duty to furnish the interior of these buildings as well as man the facilities and furnish brochures, tourist information and refreshments for the travelers.

This particular Welcome Center encompasses 7,000 square feet on 60 acres of land at the interchange of I-10 and 607 in Hancock County. Picnic grounds and rest area facilities are included.

Special attractions include a beautiful circular staircase and genuine antiques. A contract to landscape the grounds was awarded to Marvin Gardens and Landscape Services, Inc., of Sarasota, Fla., on Jan. 22 at a cost of $361,446.

The total cost of the center was funded with 90 percent federal and 10 percent state monies.

The Commission during their regular meeting Tuesday also approved installation of a 24-hour weather radio band from funds provided by a federal grant.

Cooking up a Storm

Who was it first said "Soup of the Evening, Beautiful Soup? Here's a "Beautifully good" soup that's also Soup of the Day, and truly a meal in itself.

Every nation, every culture, of course, has its own soups, and delicious ones.

This soup of Spanish and Latin American origin, has been a favorite at our house ever since Bertha Giani gave me the recipe.

When Bertha isn't busy at the piano or in her luxuriant garden, or enjoying a siesta at her lakeside home in Delisle, she's often in the kitchen conjuring up one of her many culinary delights.

It's a good one-dish meal on a winter's day, accompanied by a glass of Zinfandel, claret or burgundy wine. Here's:

Bits 'n pieces

It was good to receive an invitation from Bob Joiner, in Friday morning's mail to the open house of the Hospitality Station. A few months ago we had the dedication of the only Wave Pool in the State and it is at Buccannier State Park in Waveland. Now we will have Mississippi's largest Hospitality Station right here in Hancock County.

Many of us have been waiting a very long time for the opening of the new Hospitality Station, and indications are that the long wait was really worth while.

The Open House will begin at 9 a.m. Friday with ribbon cutting at 10:30 a.m.

We hope as many of you as possible will try to attend this gala occasion.

Everybody is talking about President Carter's State of the Union message Wednesday night.

Many of the youth of today are of course worried about the possibility of having to register, and of course many parents are concerned.

One must remember, the reason the United States has been an international power, was because of the military strength it had for so many years.

When registration and a draft was put on the shelf, our power as a nation began to weaken.

The United States has been a 'big brother' for many nations over the years, but most of the nations only think about who is doing something at the moment, not years ago.

How many of the nations we have helped with billions of dollars are now buying the oil Iran would normally sell to us?

We had to face registration when we were 18 and the draft a few months later, during the Korean conflict.

During World War I and II and also Vietnam others had to face the draft. The United States became a nation through military strength.

In order for the United States to continue to be a powerful nation we have to have a strong military. Registration for the young will be nothing those before them didn't do, and we see no reason for the young now not to have to register.

One of the big problems with the United States and the World today is the fact that so many have everything given to them on a silver platter.

If someone earns something it means far more to them.

We feel for the so many young men and women who have been training for the Olympics with the possibility of the U.S. not participating in Moscow.

We agree with President Carter in that the U.S. should boycott the Russians unless they lift their strong arm from Afghanistan.

One thing the Russians like to show the world they are superior in and it is sports; too bad if they do not have anyone to show their strength.

We hope they will have some big Olympic events in some other country if the Russians continue their aggression.

WEATHER CONFUSES—These lovely pear blossoms are about six weeks earlier than last year due to the abnormal warm winter. Coast Electric Power Association home office building on US-90, Bay St. Louis is the showplace of the County when these pear trees are in bloom. The people of Washington, D.C. brag about their Apple and Cherry blossoms, but we have to also brag about our early pear blossoms.

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

I want to promote my business, but it's hard to decide what to advertise each week. Most of the time it seems to work, but sometimes it's a complete bust. What am I doing wrong? Tired of Gambling

Dear TOG: Unless you're trying to unload out of season or sale merchandise at cut rate prices, there's only one way to select items to promote.

You advertise—the biggest and hottest selling merchandise you have. That's what people want, and what they want, they'll get. You get them in the store for what they want, and then you can show them what you think they should buy.

Be careful, though. Make sure you have the items you advertise to sell better models. The Federal Trade Commission has come down hard on several large retailers for "bait and switch"—a term they use to describe this practice.

If you're not really tired of "gambling" some advice I once heard from an old poker player might be applicable. "Never try to buy a pot," he said. "If you have the cards, run up the bet; if you don't, fold."

Advertising goods not in demand is like trying to bluff, or "buy a pot." You are gambling, and will probably lose.

However, if you have the goods, load on. The sky's the limit, and here the analogy ends for you are no longer gambling—it's like holding a pat hand.

Advertising is an inexact science. At best it is a predictable art.

But, it can be a viable vehicle for the businessman who chooses to control his own fate. Many meek souls in the business world seem complacent to sit behind their cash registers and let fate, whatever it may be, transport customers across their thresholds.

Their more virile brothers, however, know the realizations to all their business aspirations are out there in the form of customers waiting to get the word. And regularly they put in a potent bid to get their share of the market. Pure bluster doesn't get the job done, but boldness based on good merchandise in season, does.

Uncertainty, if it leads to thoughtful analysis, is beneficial. But it should not be confused with weakness.

The meek shall get theirs through inheritance, not commerce. Success comes with promoting goods that you could sell without advertising to those who come in. You use the built in demand of the advertised goods to attract those who would not otherwise come in. Ads build store traffic, traffic builds volume and volume builds profits.

With volume you can sell for less and build even more traffic; but it starts and ends with traffic. And store traffic results from advertising goods that are in strong demand.

Retired teacher, major suggests world exposure before changing humanity

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

To the Editor:

Where do people get the idea and expression, "I'm as good as you; I'm as good as any man; I can do anything you can do, etc.?"

Certainly not from nature. Nature created many varieties of animals (men) for definite ends and purposes. God gave his spirit, some call soul, which must be educated to acquire its intended destiny.

It seems that the less trained humans are, the more they try to compare themselves with the better and more prosperous people to offset their laziness and initiative.

No mental worker is as good as his superior. Why? Because the "Boss" must have something that some workers don't have, be it money, brains, education, guts, experience, determination, motivation, application, persistence, etc.

The worker, when hired, contracts to do the work hired for. That is, hours to labor, salary and efficiency, etc.

If the worker can't produce, he is warned sometimes, and-or released. So the "Boss" in this matter is better than the laborer.

In my coaching, teaching and military leadership, if and when a boy or soldier and-or subordinate resisted commands, he was explained to first, then ordered to do the duty assigned, or punished, or transferred elsewhere.

Remember, age (authority) is for advice-counsel, youth (worker) is for action (performance).

So, please folks, think and learn life through world exposure before trying to change humanity's habits and well-earned respect.

Tigers slighted

in basketball coverage

Jan. 25, 1980
Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

I am writing to express my opinion and disappointment in the layout of the boys Bay Senior High Basketball team.

I would like to know why the "Tiger" team was not given the same Page 1, Section B spread as the Senior High teams from Pass Christian, St. Stanislaus and Hancock North Central.

Where were the writeups and group photos of team members, managers, statisticians and Coach? Why were the individual photos scattered on two separate pages with bare mention of who they are?

This progressive young team consists of two Seniors, two Juniors and 10 Sophomores under the leadership of Coach Jerry Spell, who is in his second season at Bay High.

The "Tigers" have had two bad seasons - but considering the difference in age, size and experience between them and their opponents - they are making an excellent showing and have a lot of heart.

As a community newspaper serving all of Hancock County and a section of Harrison County, I would think that you could at least give all the local teams equal coverage and treatment.

I don't know if this was an intentional or unintentional slight, but I do know that you owe the "Tigers" an apology for that shoddy attempt at coverage.

Sincerely,
Brenda W. Anderson

dition were also kept a closely guarded secret.

The van was a green 1964 Ford with a Harrison County license tag.

Edward-Frilloux, fire safety administrator for the Diamondhead Fire Department, was the first to arrive on the scene.

"As standard procedure in an accident like this, I treated the woman for superficial lacerations of the skull and possible internal and spinal injuries," Frilloux explained with bloodsoaked hands.

The woman was taken to the hospital by Mobile Medic.

The Diamondhead Fire Rescue Unit, Mobile Medic, the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Mississippi Highway Patrol responded to the accident.

N.A. Perniciaro and Sons Wrecker Service towed the van from the accident scene.

In an earlier accident this weekend, a Mississippi woman driving a brown Ford station wagon apparently ran into the back of a red Chevrolet pickup truck driven by a Louisiana man on U.S. 90 near the intersection of Bayou Phillips Road," the Highway Patrol reported.

Four people were injured and three were transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital, the investigating officer revealed.

Two people in the pickup and one person in the station wagon were pinned in, the officer added.

As in the later accident Saturday, the investigating officer refused to reveal identities of the persons involved in the Friday night collision on US-90.

Sam Perniciaro and N.A. Perniciaro and Sons wrecker services towed away the vehicles in the US-90 accident.

A spokesman at Annette York Realty late Saturday confirmed that Beverly Crawford was driving the station wagon with Annette York Breshears of Annette York Realty as passenger.

Mrs. York sustained broken teeth, a broken leg and various lacerations, her office reported.

A family spokesman said Mrs. Crawford is being treated for internal bleeding at Gulfport Memorial Hospital, noting the accident occurred close to midnight Friday.

Four Picayune residents were injured Wednesday night after a Hancock County man apparently ran into the back of their automobile on Hwy. 603 near Bayou LaCrosse, according to Highway Patrolman David Kenney. Kenney said a car driven by J.C.

Koenenn Jr., 45, ran into the rear end of another automobile driven by Beverly J. Furr, 16, of Picayune at approximately 5:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Furr had as passengers in her car Patricia Clark, 17; Jimmy Dale Kendrick, 21; and Beverly Kendrick, 21, all of Picayune.

Kenny reported Furr had slowed to allow a motorcycle to make a turn into a power substation when Koenenn ran into the rear of her vehicle.

The four persons from the Furr vehicle were taken by Mobile Medic to Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune where they were all treated and released, a hospital spokesman said.

No charges have been filed, Kenny reported.

COAST SCHOOL BOARDS ASSOCIATION—Principal participants in a Gulf Coast School Boards Association meeting Thursday night hosted by the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District at Bay High cafeteria are, from left, Oren Miller of Harrison County School Board, association president; Rex Pouncey of Jackson, consultant with accreditation Unit, Division of Instruction, State Department of Education; Olen E. Ray, superintendent of Biloxi schools; and J. D. McCullough, superintendent of Bay St. Louis schools. (Staff photo by Edgar Perez)

"revision of minimum program to provide an adequate number of units to meet 'A' accreditation."

Dr. Olen E. Ray, superintendent of Biloxi schools, reported his feelings about ten bills already introduced this session, voicing strong disapproval of a measure which would require all municipal district trustees to be elected.

House Bill 100 would require that all school board members be elected by 1981 with newly elected board members completing the terms of previously appointed board members.

That bill was introduced by Rep. Jim Simpson of Long Beach, reportedly at the request of the City of Long Beach which would like to be relieved of its responsibilities of appointing three board members there.

Senate Bill 227 calls for election of trustees as the terms of current board members expire.

"The people who are organizing our teachers will also be working to elect their bosses...electing all trustees will make school districts highly vulnerable to union growth," Ray stated.

"Ray feels there are dangerous implications" for school districts in House Bill 197 which provides for unemployment benefits for all non-professional employees between academic sessions (summertime).

The Biloxi administrator said, "I like that one—it makes severance taxes worth something," in reference to House Bill 229 which provides the amount of severance taxes received by a school district would not be deducted from the district's minimum program entitlements.

House Bill 155 whose authors include Simpson and Rep. Gerald Blessey of Biloxi provides that all teachers, principals, superintendents and non-professional employees be covered under the state health and life insurance plans.

The measure also provides 100 percent of health insurance costs and 50 percent of life insurance be paid by the state.

"That all sounds good, the only problem is the measure would carry a $40 million price tag," Ray explained.

Other education-related bills pending include: —Senate Bill 2186 by Burks providing for kindergartens with cost being assumed progressively by the state over a period of four years until 100 percent of the cost would be assumed in fiscal 1984.

—Senate Bill 2181 by Gollott, Rhodes, et al. providing for changing the homestead exemption to $10,000 and to $15,000 for disabled and those over 65.

—House Bill 44 providing for reduction of pupil-teacher ratios in grades one through five to one teacher to 24 pupils.

—House Bill 207 providing for an increase in homestead exemption for $15,000 with a request that a cap be set for the amount of reimbursement to be made to school systems.

—House Bill 9 and Senate Bill 2205, each providing for a compulsory breakfast program provided certain criteria are met.

Ray said Coast superintendents favor the concept of a breakfast program, but are opposed to the compulsory provisions of the bills as written.

"The thing we are going to hear most from legislators about these education programs is 'We don't have the money,'" Ray feels.

"But we have an obligation to provide the best possible education at an affordable price, so we better make our feelings known in the halls of the Legislature," Ray urged.

Also speaking at the Thursday meeting here was Rex Pouncey of Jackson, consultant with the Accountability Unit, Division of Instruction, State Department of Education.

Pouncey briefed the association, members on a mandatory Accountability and Instructional Management (AIM) plan which has been approved by the State Department of Education.

The Mississippi Commission on School Accreditation adopted standards in July last year which require that by Nov. 1, 1984, each accredited school in the state shall have a written description of its instructional program and a systematic plan for evaluation.

The state official introduced the association to a publication entitled Aim For Excellence produced by the Department of Education as a guideline for developing an instructional management system.

Beach road plans ok'd by county

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors authorized Broadway and Seal Engineers of Picayune, county engineers, to proceed with plans and specifications for restoration of Beach Road.

"The beach road project has been authorized but, the money has not been approved. We will discuss methods of construction," Lawrance Seal said at the Tuesday board meeting.

Hancock General officials urge visitors rule compliance

Because of a heavy patient load at the present time, Hancock General Hospital has issued an urgent appeal to friends and relatives to observe posted visiting hours.

Hospital Administrator Harry Gilmore explained there are no morning visiting hours.

Visiting hours are from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. daily, he pointed out.

Patients in intensive care will be allowed one family member or visitor for five minutes every hour on the hour, and no children under 12 are allowed to visit, Gilmore added.

"We hope visitor cooperation will allow the staff to provide better patient care, better infection control, give more time for cleaning the rooms, and expedite the discharge of patients," the administrator said.

Director of Nursing Lu Ann Favre said visiting hours will be enforced immediately.

"We hope the community will understand both the need and our desire to afford the patient the best hospitalization possible," she stated.

"These rules are hospital policy necessary for the health and well-being of the patients to provide optimum rest during their hospitalization," Mrs. Favre added.

Pre-trial gound rules set in Bay school suit

By RICH ADAMS

Reports that a federal magistrate will hear testimony in a $20,000 damages suit filed in U.S. District Court in Biloxi against the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board and Superintendent J.D. McCullough were denied by the court clerk Friday.

Reports Thursday indicated either the defendants or the plaintiffs—which include the North Bay Parent-Teacher Organization; the Bay St. Louis Local, American Federation of Teachers, and several school patrons—had requested the case be conducted before a magistrate.

A court clerk Friday, however, said no motions waiving trial by U.S. District Judge Dan M. Russell have been filed by either side.

A federal magistrate did preside over a pre-trial hearing on Dec. 5 in which both parties set 'ground rules' for the trial, which is expected to be conducted sometime in March.

Russell said Thursday the pre-trial hearing establishes a set of ground rules which the attorneys intend to follow, adding the proceeding shortens actual trial time.

Russell said defendant's attorney Lucien Gex and plaintiff's attorney Gerald Blessey agree on which witnesses they will probably call to the stand during the case and which exhibits may be used as evidence.

Federal Magistrate John Roper presided over the Dec. 5 pre-trial conference in which the attorneys stipulated certain facts and established their line of arguments.

During the pre-trial proceedings the plaintiffs allege 10 violations of rights and incidents of intimidation allegedly committed by the superintendent and board members, including charges the plaintiffs have been:

—denied due process and equal protection of the law by...policies regarding the agenda, notice and conduct of Board meetings, and in regard to copying of public documents;

—denied rights of free speech and assembly by the Defendants;

—intimidated by the Defendant, individually and collectively...; and —denied lawful access to public documents and records... The plaintiffs also claim the defendants:

—met secretly and improperly without adequate notice...;

—failed and refused to establish lawful policies and procedures for appearances before it...;

—Policy 18 is unconstitutional...;

—Copying policy is unconstitutional...;

—Policy 18 is ambiguous because it contradicts Policy 11; and —the screening method in Policy 18 and the Copying Policy chills the Plaintiffs' exercise of free speech."

Both attorneys established facts such as the authenticity of exhibits which have been used in pre-trial depositions. The plaintiffs specify 12 alleged violations of their rights and incidents of intimidation in the pre-trial order. The defendants answer the plaintiffs' allegations in the pre-trial order, including the following statements:

—"The Board of Trustees is empowered by statutes to set the policies for the operation of the Schools in the District...;"

—"The Board is authorized to hold regular meetings or special meetings...;"

—"There is no requirement under the law...which grants a right to individuals, not a member of the Board...to participate in the Meetings...Nevertheless, the Board...has adopted certain policies which permit members of the public to address the Board...;"

—"The Board is authorized...to make and enforce rules governing the conduct of persons attending its meetings...;"

—"During the period from April 11, 1977, to the date of filing suit, all requests to appear before the Board which have followed the procedures...have been granted."

The defendants contest 11 issues of law, including the following:

—"Do the Plaintiffs have a right to appear before the Board of Trustees under the laws of Mississippi...and the United States...;"

—"Do the Plaintiffs have a right to require the Defendants to furnish them with copies of School Board documents under the laws of the United States or...Mississippi...;"

—"Does the charge of 28 cents per copy for the documents violate the Constitutional rights of the Plaintiffs...;"

—"Is there a danger of serious and irreparable injury sufficient to grant an injunction to the Plaintiffs...;"

—"Does the...Board...have the right to establish reasonable rules for the conduct of persons attending their meetings...and are the rules of conduct...reasonable...;"

—"Have the actions of the Defendants...constituted a denial of Free Speech and Assembly to the Plaintiffs...;"

—"Are the Plaintiffs entitled to a jury trial on the question of granting a preliminary injunction...and...Constitution Law questions in this case...;"

—"Has the...Parent-Teacher Organization...and the Federation of Teachers been properly authorized by its members to bring this suit...;"

Judge Roper estimates the length of the trial to be four days.

handicapped children in a separate building," Hill replied.

Walter Moore, director of the Special Education Division of the State Department of Education, said it's a real grey area (regarding use of the Silver Creek School) but it would be best to do it this way for the time being," Board President Woodrow Ladner said.

"But we had approved a resolution asking the supervisors for two mills for this facility," Board member Louie Ladner stated.

The Jan. 26, 1979 decision of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Mississippi (in the Mattie T. vs. Charles Holladay, superintendent of the State Department of Education, a class action suit) states, "No handicapped children are placed in structures separate from the regular school building, unless: 1) no more than 50 percent of all self-contained and 50 percent of all resource classes for handicapped children in the attendance center are housed in such structures, classes serving a comparable number of non-handicapped children are housed in comparable structures, and at least 50 percent of such non-handicapped classes are not Title I, ESEA; or, 2) the programs provided in the separate structures are so special that they cannot be provided in the regular school building."

The Education of the Handicapped Act, Title Six, Part B, as amended by Public Law 94-142 states in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Civil Rights for the Handicapped Person, "Basically, both require that handicapped persons be provided a free appropriate public education; that handicapped students be educated with nonhandicapped students to the extent appropriate...;"

The board discussed several alternatives for providing special education class space.

"If we don't have these children in the proper environment by this fall we will be cut off from federal funds," Hill added.

"The plans for the handicapped school are not complete and I have been waiting for the new superintendent to make the final decision," Mykolyk said Friday.

"The board said to go ahead with the location at Stennis. However, I have been anticipating a meeting with Dr. Frank Lovell, executive secretary of the State Finance Commission," Mykolyk added.

In other business Wednesday, the board:

—Approved a recommendation to employ Marsha Blackstock as substitute teacher of Gulfview Elementary School for the remainder of the 1979-80 school year;

—Approved a recommendation to employ Mrs. Doris Jackson as substitute cafeteria worker at Gulfview for the remainder of the 1979-80 school year;

—Approved a request by Superintendent Billy Sills to establish a school supply store at Hancock North Central Elementary;

—Approved a recommendation to employ Phillip Cobb as substitute teacher at Charles B. Murphy Elementary for the remainder of the 1979-80 school year;

—Approved advertising for the purchase of a portable stage for Gulfview; —Approved a recommendation to employ Danny Penton as a substitute teacher at Charles B. Murphy for the remainder of the 1979-80 school year.

—Approved enrollment of the children of Earline Burney (a teacher at Charles B. Murphy who recently moved to Slidell) at Charles B. Murphy; —Approved the purchase of a new water fountain for Charles B. Murphy for $309;

—Approved placement of Melanie Argiro on all elementary school's substitute teacher lists for the remainder of the 1979-80 school year;

—Approved final payment to McClendon Construction Co. for the Gulfview renovation project for approximately $8,000 as requested by Mykolyk, project architect;

—Approved advertising for bids for harvesting stumps from 16th Section lands, asking Sills to obtain a complete report on the stump treatment process and to maintain a file;

—Approved a recommendation by Louie Ladner to allow the superintendent to negotiate special education teacher

"There is no way I would be involved in a draft. Three people would be missing—me and the two guys they send looking for me. There is a more than ample number of 17-year-olds which could serve."

DONALD STRONG

Bay St. Louis

"I think the draft is needed. There are not enough people in the volunteer military, and Russia can move right on through us now."

ROBERT VAN MOL

Bay St. Louis

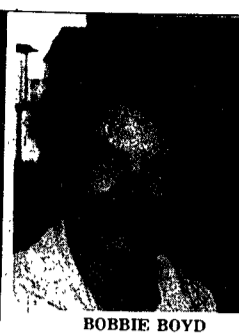

"I'm 16, and this is bad on me. My father is a farmer who produces grain. I would rather stay home and farm than go to war, but it would be my duty to go to war."

MARK MANCUSO

Bay St. Louis

"In a way the draft is kind of good and kind of bad. If the military needs help, I am all for a draft. If we're not likely to go to war, I don't think we should reinstitute the draft. As far as drafting females, it all depends on whether they can handle the situation of a war."

BOBBIE BOYD

Bay St. Louis

"I have very mixed emotions...I have a 19-year-old son. I don't think we should have ever abolished the draft to start with. I believe the quality of the enlisted men in service has dropped because too many are being sent in just to be straightened out."

A.M. DANIELS

Bay St. Louis

"I think the draft is necessary if we want to remain strong."

MRS. EARL EDWIN MATTHEWS

Mrs. Geraldine Haas Cooper and Mr. Earl Edwin Matthews were joined together in marriage by Reverend Willis Britt in an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, Dec. 29 at the Main Street Methodist Church.

The bride, who resides in New Orleans, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norton Haas Sr. of Bay St. Louis.

The groom, formerly of Chicago, Ill., also resides in New Orleans.

Arrangements of white china mums, ribbon decorated greenery, and lighted tapers provided the setting in the sanctuary for the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Mary Howard provided appropriate wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Matthews chose a cocktail length gown of powder blue chiffon with high rolled collar, and long butterfly sleeves that flowed into a graceful capelet at the back. She carried a small bouquet of cymbidium orchids.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Odette Cooper, her daughter, of New Orleans.

Miss Cooper wore a printed voile gown and carried a small orchid bouquet.

Mr. John Droppas of New Orleans attended the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Haas on Chantilly Terrace, where invited guests were received by the newly wedded couple and Mr. and Mrs. Norton Haas, Sr.

Hancock General Auxiliary termed 'no social club'

Hancock General Hospital Auxiliary met at the hospital and as the meeting progressed it was very clear that the ladies were not there for a social event.

The first and only business was for the good of the hospital and its patients.

President Mildred Ramond reminded officers of their duties:

Mrs. Odelle Puchot, first vice president, is in charge of the Pink Ladies. These ladies perform various duties at the hospital on assigned days. If in the event a pink lady can not fulfill this commitment she is to call Mrs. Puchot so that she can arrange for a substitute.

A Pink Lady is a trained volunteer taken from the membership.

Mrs. Doris Thompson was such a volunteer. A Pink Lady at her very best, Mrs. Thompson passed away last month. We shall all miss her very much.

Mrs. Thompson was membership chairman. This has been given over to Mrs. Dottie Mendow, another devoted Pink Lady.

Anyone who would like to join our organization can call 467-4714 or 467-3683.

Please do not call the hospital.

We need members, active and inactive are all welcome.

Mr. Erskine Skelton, purchasing agent for the hospital, visited the meeting to advise members of a great need for a piece of new equipment, a Warming Cabinet, at a cost of about $1,800.

He thanked the Auxiliary for the gifts in the past and expressed hope it would be possible that they could help again with this purchase.

The members will be taking this into consideration and will act on it as soon as possible.

The president then advised the members to be considering a project for our only money raising event.

George Vairin celebrates 92

George H. Vairin of Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis this month celebrated his 92nd birthday.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Vairin Sr., he came to Bay St. Louis two weeks after birth in New Orleans in 1888.

Except for a period when he worked as a railroad detective in New Orleans, Mr. Vairin has resided continuously at his Blue Meadow Road home.

In addition to working as an assistant to his father who was sheriff of Hancock County, Mr. Vairin has been a produce farmer and pulp wood worker.

A talented athlete, his hopes for a career as a professional baseball player were dashed by the Great Depression when he was obliged to remain in Bay St. Louis to assist his family.

He was also an excellent swimmer, with the Jordan River being his favorite 'swimming hole.'

There were scenes of Mt. Vesuvius and grotesque figures of those doomed citizens who did not escape its eruption.

Beautifully photographed and described were marble statues depicting the Myths; the Tiber River and Dome of St. Peter, private gardens, the Temple of Apollo and Apollo's statue; the public gardens of the City of Nimes; a boat trip to the entrance of the Blue Grotto.

BY DR. L.S. WALKER

We are what we think! The converse of this is also true. High thinking produces high living. "If ye then be risen with Christ (born of the Spirit), seek those things which are above...Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth." Col. 3:1-2.

That is why the Bible says: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, THINK ON THESE THINGS." Phil. 4:8.

Essential to a happy and confident life is a good conscience. A good conscience comes from clean, obedient Christian living.

Our mental faculties control our actions. To a large degree the quality and level of our mentality depends upon what we feed into our minds. We should be extremely careful about what we look at; what we listen to; and what we think upon. Maybe gradually, but nonetheless definitely, we become what we think!

Maybe this explains why the psalmist David prayed: "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer." Ps. 19:14.

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

Wants another chance

Q - My husband whom I love dearly just left me after 14 years of marriage because I could never accept his three grown daughters. I thought I could just love their father, but I see I was wrong. Now my whole world has ended. I have no will to go on. I begged him on the phone, told him I'd be the best stepmother in the world if he'd only give me another chance. But he won't even talk to me. What more can I do?

A - Perhaps if you continue being a genuinely changed person without pushing that fact for the purpose of a reunion, but just because it is right to be so changed, your husband may, in time, want to rejoin you.

However, there is in this life such a thing as finality caused by mistakes. If that is the way it is for you, you will just have to reorganize your life. Any strong person can do that. And if you do not think you are strong just start being so. God loves you and will help you do it.

keeps going. at times she doesn't. She is such a wonderful, good person and mother, and she has had so many hardships in this life. She is only 59 and does not deserve to suffer so miserably.

I know Christ can heal as He did when He lived on this earth. Please tell me how my prayer can be effective in healing my mother.

A - Prayer is answered in three ways: Yes, no, or wait awhile.

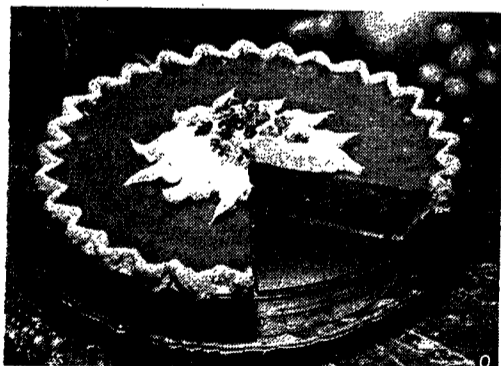

When you pray, visualize, or image your mother as healed. Believe; strongly believe.

Beyond that, place your mother in God's hands and leave her there. In the Heavenly Father's loving care no harm can come to her, only good.

Pumpkin-Mince Pie

Some choose pumpkin, some prefer mince. But who can resist a combination of these great American favorites? Luscious Pumpkin-Mince Pie is a two-layer blend of delicious flavors—the rich, savory goodness of mince, plus the creamy spiciness of pumpkin. And the pumpkin layer couldn't be easier to make, because it starts with that handy pre-cooked dessert base, sweetened condensed milk, which magically cuts steps and shortens preparation time. All in all, a very special pie!

PUMPKIN-MINCE PIE (Makes one 9-inch pie)

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 (9-inch) unbaked pastry shell (crimp edge to stand slightly above pie pan) | 2 eggs |
| 1 (16-ounce) can pumpkin (about 2 cups) | 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon |
| 1 (14-ounce) can Eagle® Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk (NOT evaporated) | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| | 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| | 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger |
| | 1-1/3 cups (one-half 28-ounce jar) None Such® Ready-to-Use Mince Meat |
| | Whipped cream and nuts, optional |

Preheat oven to 425°. In large mixer bowl, combine pumpkin, sweetened condensed milk, eggs and spices; mix well. Spread mince meat on bottom of shell; top evenly with pumpkin mixture. Bake 15 minutes; reduce oven temperature to 350° and continue baking 30 to 35 minutes or until knife inserted 1 inch from edge comes out clean. Cool thoroughly before cutting. Garnish as desired. Refrigerate leftovers.
